INTRODUCING OUR CANDIDATES

Liberal Democrat Candidates for the District Council Elections

Phil Barron

I am a semi-retired psychiatrist. I have worked in hospitals and community services in Nottinghamshire and also Lincoln since I moved to the Newark area in 2014.

I have been a Medical Director and a member of Senior Management Teams, working with others to plan and develop health services and also to investigate incidents when things have gone wrong.

I have been active in local politics for several years, stimulated by concern about poor quality and expensive local services and about incompetent national government. I have been Chair of Newark and Sherwood Liberal Democrats since January 2022.

Marylyn Rayner

I have had the good fortune to live in Collingham since 1974 and to have brought up my children here with my husband.

For the ten years before my retirement I worked for Nottingham University Hospital.

I'm a Green Lib Dem and have been active in the struggle against climate change for decades.

I am also a member of Diocesan Synod and a long-term volunteer with Christian Aid.

Working hard all year round

- We deplore the growing gap between the rich and the rest, with big pay rises for those at the top and deteriorating living standards for everyone else.
- We are angry about our increasingly polluted countryside, our dependence on fossil fuels and inaction on climate change
- We are seriously concerned about the state of our health service and social care services, including dental care services
- We want to see a better system of taking local people's views into account when planning developments. We don't like decisions being taken behind closed doors.
- We believe in greater equality and fairness, a more caring society, a greener environment and better public services
- We will work as councillors to achieve these goals
