David Watts

Serious about climate change

David Watts and the Liberal Democrats are serious about tackling climate change. We can no longer ignore the problem and pretend that climate change isn't happening, or that it is a purely natural event. People are causing the damage and people need to put it right.

David drives an electric car, powered by solar power. His house is powered 100% by renewable energy. His net carbon footprint each year is zero. The Liberal Democrats are committed to ensuring that this campaign will also be net zero.

David is the editor of Challenge, the journal of the Green Liberal Democrats. This publication draws contributions from academics and practitioners to encourage and share good practice for individuals, businesses and local authorities. David's commitment is that if elected he will be a vocal advocate for the climate in parliament. If you value the climate please vote David Watts on 4th July.
